TEACHER ELLEN

Dedication

To the one who, for nearly a half-century, has watched the miracle of returning June on the campus of Wilmington College, and whose heart with perennial freshness has kept in sympathy with youth, to her who for so many years has been the embodiment of the best ideals our Alma Mater has held before her sons and daughters; to Ellen C. Wright is this volume dedicated.

OUR FACULTY

If you seek a Faculty perfect
You may search the whole world round
But unless you visit Wilmington
I am sure it cannot be found.

Which excels in grace or learning
It indeed is hard to say
But in basketball, no question
Honors go to President Jay.

Why the Coach's journeys northward
We had never really known
Until on a bright May morning
He returned—but not alone.

If their individual merits
I attempted to unfold
Volumes might in truth be written
And the half not yet be told.

So I'll end by merely saying
Each an artist in his line
That is why our College standing
Rises upward all the time.

"Let us never forget that the cultivation of the soil is the most important labor of man."

Elizabeth Benedict

Through the four years of her college life at Wilmington College, Elizabeth Benedict has pursued her course diligently, yet unobtrusively and now she has most deservedly been designated the most all-round girl in the Senior Class by the faculty of Wilmington College.

In the class room she has been faithful and purposeful and in athletics she has played consistently and fairly, but whatever else one may say of her, one feels that she is a good friend to have, for although she does not compromise in what she thinks is right, she judges calmly, charitably and loyally.

Betty Benedict is an example of that finest of things, Christian young womanhood; one of those human springs from which a life giving stream of kindliness flows. And for these reasons she is deemed worthy of having her name engraved on the Delta Omega Theta cup.

Ralph Boring

The honor of having his name engraved on the cup presented last year by the Sigma Zeta Fraternity comes to Ralph Boring as being the best all-round man in the Senior Class.

Coming to us in the fall of '17 his efforts from the very start gave evidence of the idea of his life, to study and to learn, that he might bring the Christian message to those of his native State. He had realized the need, he had answered the call and had come to Wilmington College, to prepare himself, mind and body, and, more than anything else, we admire him because during these years with us he has held true to his ideals. In the class-room he has endeavored to give his best, on the athletic field he has played the game well and clean, in the social world he has continued to hold true, serving always as a model of good fellowship, but in his spiritual life he has achieved the greatest triumph because he has taught us how to mingle among men and at the same time reflect the ideals of noble Christian living.

We know from personal experience and from the observation of other well-meaning friends how easy it is to fail in doing that which we know is right and so all honor to him who has conquered, who has fought a good fight during the most important years of his life.

Oh! That we some day
May Seniors be
And sail upon
That deep blue sea!

JUNIORS

The Juniors

IN the fall of 1917 a group of boys and girls, to the number of fifty-one, filled with the exuberance of youth, with the eagerness, happiness and the joy of living entered the portals of Wilmington College. A jollier, noisy and peppier bunch there never was. Freshman never wore their green and white caps, and pigtails tied with green ribbons, with jauntier grace, or more rare good humor. The first year passed all too quickly with its good times and June with its warm, soft breezes saw these boys and girls waving good bye to newly made friends but looking forward to the fall. But in 1918, our number was sadly ravaged on account of the world war. The faces that were present were not so happy, for something was lacking. The halls were almost silent, an unheard of thing at Wilmington, and numerous seats were vacant. Almost all of the boys were either in training camp, over seas, or in Student Army Training Corps. But a glorious change took place about Christmas time, a joyous wonder working change. Here, there, everywhere, one could catch glimpses of khaki clad boys, who were returning all happy and eager to begin work again at Wilmington College. And then our wonderfully successful Sophomore social! Do classes ever have better times? We did not number so many as in the Freshman year, but the most of us were greeting friends once again. And then June with its flutterings of caps and gowns and the farewells and we realized—was it possible that our Sophomore year with its trials and tribulations was over? Now with almost half our number gone (some of our absent ones enjoying the matrimonial state) we are aspiring Juniors, honored by having Edwin Arthur as our President; Bruce Achor, Vice-President; Ruth Benedict, Secretary; and Russell Clevenger, Business Manager. With such an efficient group of officers and the rest of us all enthusiastic helpers, we are able to accomplish anything if we wish to earnestly enough. We still believe that our class is the most brilliant of the four bright stars which shine at Wilmington College.

Sophomore Class

IN the fall of nineteen hundred and eighteen, when the Wilmington College class of '22 took up its work with its chosen Alma Mater, it did not have as large an enrollment as some of the previous classes had had owing to the fact that a number of its present members were in Army Training Camps or were connected with some other kind of war work. At the end of the first semester, however, when the boys were released by their country, they came to Wilmington College, and joined with the rest of the class to make Wilmington College "go over the top", and to help it to be one of the leading Colleges in the State. The class of '22 has tried to be a credit to the institution, and so far it has lived up to its intentions and the class is well represented in every line of college activity. We believe that in the future the college will point with pride to the achievements of this class.

And then handsome Harry to all of us dear,
In journal cartooning will carve a career.

A home and a husband and six little kids,
For our Veta Myers this is not a fib.

Chas. Davis at Merrells mid rods and retorts,
Will analyze poisons for Federal Courts.

Dear Danny the darling of all of the girls,
Will teach fancy dancing with glides, kicks and whirls.

If Merritt can bear it I'll willingly swear it,
He'll worthily wear it the gown of a Dean.

For Posner there's pills for his patients ill,
The collecting of bills will furnish him thrills.

And Margaret the vamp will prove some man's undoing,
With bright eyes and smiles and turtle dove cooing.

With marcelle and massage, with powder and rouge,
Mary George will make charming the homeliest boobs.

We'll see with the Follies in the year '23,
Our cute little Elmer a comedian he.

Some night in big lights on a drug store, we'll see,
A word spelled out "Harrigon", he'll say—well that's me.

While traveling in China some day we will see,
Our old friend Ralph Schindler, U. S. Consulate he.

Miss Mary Snyder with wit bright and gay,
Will write funnies for movies and win fame some day.

As a Chem. Lab. instructor with wise look and frown,
Miss Inez C. Baker will win world renown.

What the fates are preparing we rarely can tell,
But the world's next great painter will be fair Adele.

Our friend Ashton Collier, I very much fear,
Will leave the drug business before one more year.
He'll open an office with pictures impressing,
And there teach young lovers the art of caressing.

Melba L. Monfort.

"Poem"

The world's a stage, so Shakespeare said one day,
For him 'twas true, for his world was the play,
So each man's world revolves about his life,
Himself the center of its love and strife.

History of the Junior Class

THE entering class last fall was somewhat different from the usual ones—not a female student among us. Oh, well, so much the better, no one to lure us from our studies. We are noted for almost everything. Our boys are very entertaining and certainly do their best to be so. In recitation, our answers are the best, our mistakes the most ridiculous, and our translations and pronunciations the most original.

Our Junior year has been pleasant and enjoyable. We have, all of us, become inclined with that wonderful spirit of close comradeship which is exhilarating and which will no doubt last into the years. We are "one for all and all for one." We have formed our class organization and no one can deny that we have chosen capable officers.

Ours is a responsible heritage from the seniors, and to the best of our ability we aim to live up to it and to its ideals, ever striving onward and being steadfast and determined.

During the month of February we were saddened by the death of Professor Edward A. Ohm. It was a loss that left a deep wound in our hearts, and bereft us of an excellent instructor, and advisor, and a deep true friend.

We are proud of our achievements, and above all we are proud of that humility which permits us to recognize the merit of other classes which have worked as hard as we and have failed only thru lack of ability. Our modesty prevents us from dwelling upon our many other accomplishments, but we are compelled to admit that the class of nineteen hundred and twenty-one is the most remarkable class that ever existed, and we shudder to think what would have happened to The Queen City College of Pharmacy without us.

CLASS MOTTO

To those of us who may not walk in the limelight, let there at least be a desire to strive to hold our class banner clean and above reproach and to live noble and unselfish lives.

The Wilmington College Pharmacy Department

IN the summer of 1917, the Lebanon University was closing its long and famous career, and Wilmington College was called into the councils of that corporation and in a friendly way co-operated for the preservation of the records of that institution, and helped to devise plans for protecting the interests of former graduates and students of Lebanon University. At the time of the closing of the University, the Queen City College of Pharmacy, located at Cincinnati, Ohio, was assigned to Wilmington College, and became a Department of Wilmington College. The record of this transfer was made in the records of the State Department and the Pharmacy School since the fall of 1917, has been under the immediate jurisdiction of Wilmington College. The school fills an important mission in the city of Cincinnati, and enrolls students from various states of the Union. The operation of this school in Cincinnati has introduced the name of Wilmington College into the heart of that great city and also has carried the name of the college wherever the students and literature of the Queen City College have gone. While the Pharmacy College is an absolute Department of Wilmington College, yet its operations are distinct and directed toward the particular object of pharmaceutical students.

Religion—One Steady Purpose Runs

THE founders of Wilmington College in 1870 in stating the purpose of their proposed institution said, "It shall be for the promotion of Education, Religion, Morality and the Fine Arts, and shall be open to all, without reference of any religious belief." This purpose, which emphasizes religion, has never been departed from. Every President has been chosen as an administrator true to Christian principles and devoted to earnest effort to inculcate wholesome moral and religious instruction.

Students have always been required to attend College Chapel where the Bible is honored, sacred songs are sung and the regular exercises are devoted to the consideration of the important items of Christian living. They have always been asked "to attend public worship with regularity at the churches of their denominational choice."

A weekly prayer meeting has never failed to be held, first as a Friends mid-week meeting, then as a College Christian Endeavor organization, and in these later years, since 1903, under the Christian Associations of young men and young women.

In early days Scripture lessons were given once a week by each instructor. This developed into a class with more frequent recitations and later into a department with daily instruction under a trained Professor of Bible History and Doctrine. Here students have vocational guidance and instruction as Christian workers, Student Volunteers, Ministers and Missionaries at home and abroad,

The institution has always been as a Church School and receives constant encouragement in this timely mission. When like a Ship of State it has rocked amid the shoals or cliffs of its passage, it has always been buoyed and steadied by men and women who lifted hands in prayer.

Its religious influence is revealed in the multitude of Christian homes, whose founders have been touched by its appeals, by the manning of a large Yearly Meeting with Christian officers and laborers and in the body of citizens and students who are able to grasp something of the present world situation and fall in line with the great Forward and Inter Church World Movement. Its gospel teams, its workers afield, its Reconstruction abroad, its frequent delegations to conferences giving inspiration, for large service, its open door of welcome to Student Enlistment Campaigns, to deputations of vocational guidance and to any messengers, encouraging wholesome Christian Activities, all point to the influence of its guiding spirit.

So thru Wilmington College, so soon to round out its first half century one steady purpose runs. Its truest friends are jealous of any influence that tends to thwart or lessen the religious tend.

To the incoming Freshman, Y. W. C. A. means friendly faces at the station and a hearty welcome to Wilmington College, a big sister who is her best friend thru the getting started days, some one to guide her thru the tiresome process of registration, a bulletin board and sandwich sales.

As Sophomore and Junior Y. W. C. A. means an opportunity for religious activity. The hour of weekly meeting is some way different from other religious services. It belongs to the Y. W. C. A. and the Association makes it what it is.

The Senior looking back thru college days sees the things that have affected her life and realizes that Y. W. C. A. has meant inspiration for virtuous living, a broadened outlook, and perhaps it has meant a feeling that she too is a bit responsible for the way the world goes 'round.

THE Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. exerts an inestimable influence upon the lives of our students and especially is its potency evident in the career of our young men in dormitory life.

We feel that the past year has wrought accomplishments greater than any of those of recent years, much credit however, being due to the efficiency of our cabinet which has enlisted the hearty co-operation of practically every student.

Toward the close of each college year the Y. M. C. A. entertains the senior High School boys of this and adjacent counties, the motive of which is to instill in them a desire for coming to college and taking up the work with us. At the beginning of each year, a stag social is held in which a vigorous attempt is made to become acquainted with every newcomer. Also in co-operation with the Y. W. C. A. an opening social for the entire student body affords an opportunity for acquaintances in a larger way.

During a week of this past December, the Y. was fortunate in obtaining the services of Rev. L. D. Cartwright of Lexington, Ky., who conducted an evangelistic service and by his warm and congenial companionship reached a large number of students. One of the visible results of this campaign was the organization of a group of men to observe the "Morning Watch," which group has continued its daily meeting throughout the year.

We are not desirous of making the association appear to our students larger than it really is, but it does present a sane and practical program, the aim of which is to touch very vitally the general campus life of our students.

Wilmington College is an institution of Christian ideals. Considering this the Yearly Meeting has a right to ask the students to help solve the problems of the outlying meetings. The Gospel Teams endeavor to meet these conditions.

The Association has made the Gospel Team work its major object the past year. The results have been splendid. Not only has it helped the members of the team individually, but their efforts have been appreciated by the various communities in which they held services.

Members of the team are chosen in respect to their spirit in the Christian Activities of the campus as well as to their abilities.

Science Club

THE Wilmington College Science Club was organized in January 1915, by a few students who were especially interested in science and were anxious to receive training from scientific discussion. The organization has been very active from the beginning and has accomplished splendid results.

The club meets twice each month on the second and fourth Thursdays, and topics of scientific interest are discussed. At present the officers of the Club are Donald Organ, President; Ruth Gibson, Vice-President; Donald Villars, Secretary-Treasurer; and Professor Oscar F. Boyd, Chairman of Program Committee.

THE BOOSTERS CLUB

The Dawn of a Great Tomorrow for W. C.

DEEP within the souls of each of us lies the desire to see our college, our alma mater, grow to a point where she will stand forth as one of the very best. We love the old school, we admire the patient efforts of those who have sacrificed, of those who have worked with unceasing toil that we might have a home of Higher Education in Wilmington. We were all anxious to do our little bit, but how? That was the question, in order that it might count to the utmost.

The dream of stirring up the minds of Clinton County people so that they would of their own accord come to the help of Wilmington College became particularly strong in the mind of one of our fellow-students and the solution of the problem appeared to be contained in the two great words CO-OPERATIVE PUBLICITY. Each day the dream grew stronger. Finally it demanded expression so he went to President Jay and presented the plan in full. Receiving the kindly co-operation and help of the President and the expression of approval of the older and more influential members of the Annual Staff, he presented his ideas regarding the Boosters Club one Tuesday morning, in chapel. Here, without a single dissenting voice, the entire student body and faculty joined the Boosters Club. The Boosters Club being, in short, an organization for students, farmers and townsmen founded with the idea of furnishing publicity to Wilmington College and to all of the "Good Things" of Clinton County.

The first number of "Pep", the official organ of the Club, being issued enthusiasm began to run high for increased membership among the citizens of Clinton County. It was then determined to inaugurate a contest. The student body was divided into two teams, the Greens and Whites, and it is sufficient to say that a heated campaign followed in which over one thousand additional members to the organization were obtained.

A feature of the Club has been the six Boosters nights given at Wilmington's two beautiful theaters. These nights have been worth many times the membership fee, as the very cream of entertainment has been obtained. In addition to a series of the finest feature pictures the Boosters have each evening given a program of rare excellence. These programs have consisted in the main of music by town and college vocalists and orchestras, of inspirational talks by some of the town's leading citizens and clever boosting stunts given for a public purpose.

"Pep" however has been the leading feature of the Club which has attracted widespread attention. Its purpose from the beginning has been not only to serve as a newspaper for local consumption but to help, to lift and point the way to right optimistic living. It has cheered the lives of young and old with whom it has come in contact.

The far-reaching results of the Boosters Club have however only begun. The Club will, beyond doubt, be a permanent co-operative organization since it is the crystalization of a great and growing sentiment. More power to it! May it ever serve as the forerunner of a "Bigger and Better Wilmington College."

Big Sister Organization

THE Big Sister Movement began at Wilmington College in the fall of 1917, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Rebecca Ross Parker was then president of the Y. W. C. A. and she with Dorothy Conklin and other Cabinet members were directly responsible for the Big Sisters.

What are the "Big Sisters?" From every girl who has been a "new girl" at Wilmington College since 1917, will come a different answer. To each one of them the answer will be that particular upper classman who wrote her a nice warm interested letter several weeks before she made her appearence in old College Hall for registration, who met her at the train who helped her get settled in her room, who somehow tactfully guided her thru that awful maze and haze of "signing up". It was the Big Sister who made the Little Sister acquainted with faculty members and all her fellow students, who answered a number of questions which she was almost afraid to ask and who manifested her sisterly nearness thru spasms of acute homesickness. Thus it goes on thru out the different years; the Big Sister movement stands upon our campus as one of the biggest factors which are working towards kindliness and thoughtfulness for others for it is giving a bit of self and a bit of time for some one else—a thing all too rare in the continual rush and busyness of student life.

COACH PRICE

Coach Neil W. Price came to us this year very highly recommended and has certainly lived up to our expectations. He entered the spirit of the school at once and has been instrumental in creating a deeper interest in College athletics.

Coach Price has been an untiring worker in the Gym, where his unusual ability as an athlete and his superior knowledge of the game has made this year the best in Wilmington College athletics.

PROF. BOYD

Prof. Boyd has been Faculty Advisor and mainstay in athletics in Wilmington College for the past several years. It has been his enthusiasm and constant interest that has caused our athletics to gain their present high standing among the other colleges of the Middle West.

Prof. Boyd has become well known throughout the colleges as an advocate of clean and manly sportsmanship.

ATHLETICS

THERE was a time, years ago, when Colleges, especially those of the Friends denomination, looked upon athletics as a stumbling block in the pathway of educational pursuit. But that time has long since passed and with it has gone the old theories and with the new era has come a new trend of thought and a blessed widening in our viewpoint toward athletics.

Wilmington College, although much smaller than some of the colleges and universities of the land, has not lost step with the march of progress of the newer methods of education and today Wilmington College stands for those three fundamentals of a well balanced college education—mental training, religious training and physical training.

The major sports at Wilmington College are football, girls' and boys' basketball, track and girls' and boys' tennis. Letters are awarded in each of these five sports.

The athletic world is governed democratically by the Wilmington College Athletic Association, which is composed of the entire student body. The more executive body is the Athletic Council. The personnel of this organization is as follows: Faculty Advisor, Coach, Captain and Manager of teams, a Chairman and a Secretary.

One of the big features of the sport calendar of Wilmington College is the annual Clinton County Basketball Tournament, held each spring in the College Gymnasium for the High Schools of the county, the purpose of which is to not only determine the county champion team but to promote a keener yet more healthy rivalry among the High Schools of the county, and last but not least, link them up in closer fellowship with the College.

The Denver Field and Track Meet is another annual event, which is open to the students of the College and has been very popular. This meet has not been held for the past two years, but will probably be taken up again.

Foot Ball Team

HERMAN CARTWRIGHT

"Hermie" has made quite a record on the gridiron at Wilmington, leading the team, as captain '18, '19. Foot ball is his middle name, and as a halfback he has always been on the job—a faithful and willing worker

WALTER CARTER

"Wec" proved his sterling worth not only at basketball, but on the gridiron last fall. An injury caused the school to lose his valuable service as tackle for a time

CLEVE CARROL

"Mother" Carrol has made his way in almost every sport in the school — never spectacular but always dependable and faithful. His work at end on the team this season was excellent

RICHARD LARKIN

"Dickie," captain '17 and one of the speediest ends ever developed at Wilmington College, returned to school this year; but his injury, early in the season, crippled the team

MARION McKAY

"Curly," captain elect, has held down the halfback berth on the Wilmington College team, three years. Few other men have a wider reputation in foot ball circles. Prospects are bright for next year under his leadership

ROBERT PEELLE

"Bob" goes into the game for all there is in it, and looks promising for next year. He is another tackle that is always "rough and ready." His work has been of the A-1 class

Foot Ball Team

RICHARD FISHER

"Dick" has made an enviable record in foot ball and it is hoped that he will be in the harness again next season. He played fullback the past year

CLINTON PEELLE

"County" has more than weight when it comes to playing tackle. He is the kind of a man that makes the opposing team feel defeat at first sight

◎ ◎ ◎ ◎ ◎ ◎

ROBERT FARQUHAR

"Bob" was one of the most consistent freshman out last fall. His work as quarterback was commendable

HERMAN JOHNSON

"Scooch" has weight and the determination that makes a happy combination in a tight struggle. He played center with all the "fight" that it takes to hold that position

◎ ◎ ◎ ◎ ◎ ◎

WILFORD WOOD

"Woody" was always in the game and made a good record. His "grit" and "sand" lend him weight in the sport

Basket Ball Letter Men

ORVILLE ELLIS

"Peaches" has been hard at work at basket ball since he entered from High School and his work on the College team has been good. He plays guard.

MARION McKAY

"Curly" needs no introduction to those who know Wilmington College. His history as a forward began away back in High School days.

WALTER CARTER

Wilmington loses a good guard this year with the graduation of "Wec." His work has never been spectacular but he was on the job at critical points of the game.

ROBERT FARQUHAR

"Bob" was a Freshman but he made good as soon as he came out and soon won a berth on the first team. He played forward and center during the season.

Base Ball

Our base ball team this year shows every indication of having a most successful season. Coach Price has been working with the men in a very satisfactory manner and has developed some good talent. Interest this year is running high in this sport, which goes to say that Wilmington College will win its mark in this branch of athletics.

"Preach" Boring will be on the mound this year (enuf said). Robert Peelle and Milner will take care of the back stopping and Brookbank at first, Regan at second, Wilkerson at short and Larkin at third will form the infield. The outfield will be taken care by Arnold, Kester, Spencer and Hackney.

Not being disadvantaged by players being out on account of the war and with all the good material on hand we will await a successful season.

Denver Track Cup

The Denver Athletic Cup was presented to the Wilmington College Athletic Association, on June 1, 1905, by Hon. M. R. Denver. Mr. Denver is a firm friend of the College, and has shown his loyalty in many ways, but nothing he has done has been more influential in endearing him to the College students than the gift of this cup. The Denver cup has stimulated a healthy and manly interest in athletics.

The men who have had the honor of having their names engraved on the cup as a reward for superiority in athletic contests are:

Russell D. Jay, 1905
J. Verne Roberts, 1906
Chas. Anan Kitrell, 1907
Raymond J. Gray, 1908

Fourth Row—Grice, Captain; Mulford, Linton, Manager; Carter, Johnson, Brann, Locke, Coach Price.

The Girls' Basket ball season was considered a great success, winning four games out of the six games played. The climax of the season came at the time of the defeat of Cincinnati University on Wilmington's floor, which made our team one of the talked of teams of the state. Other games were played with Cedarville and Antioch Colleges with equal success. Although we lose two good players, Grice and Benedict, prospects for next year under Capt. Linton are very bright.

Not beautiful in architecture
But sturdy and strong as the hills.
The snows of many winters and
The heat of many summers
Have served to mar its exterior,
But not all the changing fortunes of time
Have served to shake or mar
The foundation of its business,
For its foundation is that
Enduring principle, honesty.
Honesty, backed by wise management
And efficient and willing service,
Has established this bank in the
Hearts of the people and its future is safe.
In the new home it is soon to occupy
It will serve the people faithfully and well.
Adding to the efficiency of the past
All modern safeguards and conveniences,
It will stand on the corner

Elgin SIX

The Better Car

"Distinctly 'Elgin'"

People who have learned that there is no fitting substitute in the same price class, remark as they notice an Elgin Six climbing a difficult grade—

"Its marvelous hill-climbing ability is distinctly 'Elgin.'"

Others, who are familiar with the many triumphs of the "World's Champion Light Six" in most every conceivable kind of stock-car race and endurance test, exclaim whenever the subject of automobiles is being discussed—

"Its unmatched performance and brute endurance are distinctly 'Elgin.'"

The opinions of those who cannot help being impressed by its dominating appearance as they meet an Elgin Six on the road for the first time are instantly confirmed—

"The inviting character of its design—its alluring beauty—is distinctly 'Elgin.'"

"Out 'A Luck"

I picked up a rusty horse-shoe,
And nailed it on the wall;
Then someone stole my auto—
I had no luck at all.

The chap who substitutes the horse-shoes for insurance is pretty certain to find himself "out 'a luck" some bright frosty morning.

Their Last Words

What they will say as they trail off over the campus
Some solicited and some guessed at

Wilford Wood—"Don't care if I do—I'm off the campus now."

Louise Haworth—"Well girls, I've worried over that 'till I'm just about sick."

Ruth Grice—"Shoot! I don't feel educated."

Clinton Peele—"Yes I take my bath every day."

Katherine Fisher—"Oh do you really think so."

Donald Organ—"Good old Sheepskin."

Ruth Gibson—"Ah Tut! Tut!"

Herman Cartwright—"I got a lot out of W. C. I'm going to build a house on it."

Naomi Organ—"Well that's done."

Elizabeth Benedict—"Four years so full of happiness, that they were as four days to me."

Letha Gallimore—"Oh! if every one were as happy as I am."

Walter Carter—"There's only one girl in this world for me."

Truman Arnold—"Back to the farm for me, by gosh!"

Mary Lincoln—"If I could only live up to my name."

Joe Hare—"Educated, by-dad."

Ruth Douglass—"Ah, those were the bonnie days."

Tom Regan—"Well so long fellows."

Bessie Carter—"No I want to teach a year first."

Richard Larkin—"Wilmington has meant a lot to me—yes she was here my first three years."

Cleve Carrol—"For me and my gal."

Pauline Hunnicut—"Oh! I'm as sorry as I can be, I meant to be."

Alfred Milner—"My education would never have been complete without the Faculty at W. C."

Ralph Boring—"Oh! to give the Mikado a thousand times."
